MELLON SAYS HE CANNOT FURNISH THE INFORMATION

As to Amount of Liquor Brought in by Foreign Embassies

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Secretary Mellon has informed the ouse judiciary committee that e could not "properly" furnish ongres with information as to he amount of intoxicating liquors rought into this country by foreign diplomatic representatives. Altho Secretary Hughes has written that committee calling its ttention to ruling by Attorney General Palmer, in 1920 that foreign diplomats were immune rom the operation of the prohibition amendment and the enforcement act.

Information as to importations by the diplomatic representatives of foreign governments and as to the authority under which they were permitted would be called for under a resolution introduced recently by Representative Cramton, Republican, Michigan, after the police had stated that embassies and legations were the source of much of the liquor handled by Washington "bootleggers."

The resolution was referred to the house judiciary committee and Chairman Volstead formally communicated its contents to Secretaries Mellon and Hughes.

After reading copies of their replies, Mr. Cramton sought today to have the house discharge the committee from further considera ion of the resolution and to take a vote immediaeely on the measure itself but Speaker Gillett ruled that a resolution from the rules committee offered by Chairman Campbell had the right of way. Mr. Cramton appealed from the ruling but the house sustained it 165 to 127. Subsequently Mr. Cramton made public copies of the letters from the secretaries.

JUDGE HARTWELL MAKES RULING ON QUALIFICATIONS

Participation in Checkoff Does Not Disqualify, He Says

(By The Associated Press)

MARION, Ill., Feb. 15.—Participation in the one per cent check-off which has been levied by the Illinois Miners' Union against its members to be used for defending members indicted in connecion with the Herrin mine riots does not disqualify a prospective juror from serving in the second trial, Circuit Judge D. T. Hartwell ruled late today.

The ruling was occasioned in the examination of I. Jennings, a former union coal miner who said he supposed the one per cent checkoff had been taken from his his wages. C. W. Middlekauf, assistant attorney general contended that the fact that Jennings had contributed to the defense of the men on trial was sufficient cause to bar him from jury service.

The court however, held that the contribution was involuntary and as such was not sufficient cause for disqualificaion. The prosecution then excused Jennings with its premptory challenge.

No jurors have been definitely agreed upon out of the examination of 58 veniremen this week. Shortly before adjournment of court the state tendered a panel of four prospective jurors to the defense which was granted until tomorrow morning to reach a decision on the panel. The panel is composed of Rollie Edwards, union painter, and Thomas Cox, farmer, both of whom have been tentatively accepted by both sides and John Clark, chauffeur, and J. J. Maxey, union carpenter.

FRANCE REALIZING AIMS IN THE RUHR

(By The Associated Press)

DUESSELDORF, Feb. 15.—Rapid strides toward realiation of France's aim in the Ruhr are being made daily, according to announcements from the occupational headquarters which point out that from eight to nine trains of coal and coke, or approximately 5,000 tons are leaving the occupied area every twenty-four hours for Belgium and France. These trains are entirely manned by French civilian railway workers. In addition there are some 12,000 rail men now familiarizing themselves with the operation of the German lines.

The French maintain that the Rhine traffic also shows marked improvement, coal and coke being sent out quite regularly in barges by way of Strasbourg.

Twenty-five steamships in all have been requisitioned and manned by French and Belgian sailors.

The river fleet includes also hundreds of barges many of which are already loaded with fuel.

MADE ADMINISTRATRIX OF HAMON ESTATE

ARDMORE, Okla., Feb. 15.—Mrs. Georgia Hamon Rohrer, of Chicago, widow of Jake L. Hamon, was appointed administrix of the Hamon estate by Judge M. F. Winfrey in county court here today. Her appointment followed acceptance of the resignation of Frank Ketch, Mrs. Rohr's bond was set at $500,000.

The question of the alleged insolvency of the estate was not considered in connection with the appointment. Mrs. Rohrer recently obtained annulment of a divorce from Rohrer on the ground that after having sought and obtained the degree w'hout alimony, she discovered the Hamon estate was insolvent and that she was penniless.

BRITISH DEBT BILL WILL COME UP FOR ACTION TODAY

Agreement Reached Thursday After It Had Been Blocked

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15—An agreement providing for a vote on the British debt funding bill before the senate adjourns tomorrow was formally entered into late today after a similar proposal had been blocked earlier.

Under the agreement entered into it was provided that after 2 o'clock the time of each senator for debt will be limited to ten minutes and that the senate should remain in continus until bill is disposed of.

Passage of the bill was regarded as a foregone conclusion and conceded by opponents in today's debate which was confined exclusively to Democrats, divided on the legislation.

The formal agreement for a vote before adjournment tomorrow came unexpectedly after what appeared to be fruitless negotiations.

Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, who made today two extended speeches vigorously attacking the bill, objected earlier to any unanimous consent agreement, but finally yielded.

The agreement made was offered by Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas with Senator Smoot, Republican, Utah, in charge of the bill insisting upon a vote before adjournment tomorrow. A continuous session was not expected however, as Senator Robinson and others said the discussion appeared to be nearly exhausted and would end soon after the 2 o'clock time limit went into effect. A new feature of the voting agreement, insisted upon by Senator LaFollette, Republican, Wisconsin provided that the chair should not keep a list of senators to recognize for addresses. Senator LaFollette said this was a practice to which he had often objected in the past.

Criticizes Interest Rates

Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, ranking Democrat of the foreign relations committee criticized sharply the interest rates given to Great Britain and other features of the funding agreement, but said he might be compelled to vote for the bill finally. He offered an amendment providing that the British interest payments should be the average borne by United States securities and paid semi-annually.

Senator Robinson, the prospective Democratic leader, supported the bill as a factor for world stabilization.

"It probably will bring about stabilization of business and also of interest rates," he said, "expressing the belief that interest charges probably would work lower in a few years."

Vigorous onslaughts against the measure were made against by Senator Reed who attacked British policies, past and present foreign and domestic. He declared that the debtor nation was able to pay the original debt, which he said was a moral obligation. He declared that a debtor which would not meet such an obligation would lose its credit before the world and also could be compelled to pay. Senator Reed said he could force payment from a recalcitrant debtor nation and said that one method would be to seize possessions lying near the United States shores.

These statements were deplored by Senator Owen as "mischevious and harmful" and as expressing dissent from any policy of force in the debt collection.

Albert Bailin's Memory Fails Him

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Feb. 15—The memory of Albert Bailin, alias Balanow, confessed spy and agent provocateur, which enabled him for three days to tell a story of crimes to have been committed by the W. J. Burns and Thiel Detective Agencies and operatives of the department of justice failed him today.

Under cross-examination by O. L. Smith, assistant attorney general of Michigan, Balanow, who made his deposition here for Frank P. Walsh, attorney for twenty two defendants in the Michigan Communist case forget his age, the date of his birth, the day of his birthday, the name of the ship on which he came to America, the town where he was born and many other facts about himself.

He refused point blank to tell the names of his brothers and sisters in this country who might supply the information and after accusing Attorney General Smith of trying either to make a fool out of the witness or himself refused on advice of counsel to tell where in America he landed, or any other facts about his coming to this country.

He likewise refused on advice of counsel to spell test words selected by Mr. Smith from reports which Balanow had made in his own hand writing while working for the Burns Agency. The Michigan official was trying to show that the same words misspelled the same way in reports which Balanow acknowledges were his and in others which he claimed were forgeries.

Allan O. Meyers, assitant manager of the Burns Agency, who could not be found by subpeona servers when Mr. Walsh attempted to question him in Philadelphia, New York and Washington, appeared today and volunteered o make a deposition. He will follow Balanow, probably tomorrow.

Altho the Michigan authorities have arrested but twenty two of he seventy seven men and women who are alleged to have attended the communist convention near St. Joseph on August 22, 1922, and warrants for the missing forty five have gone unserved since last September, one of the missing ones is attending the hearing here as a reporter. He is M. Backel, a representative of the Jewish Freiheit, a New York newspaper.

Altho he sat thru the hearing today within a half dozen feet of Mr. Smith, Prosecuting Attorney Gore, of Berrien county, Michigan, and Max Berger, former department of justice agent, who is assisting the Michigan authorities he was only recognized by fellow reporters.

Backal told newspapermen he did not attend the convention.

BIG LOAN WAS MADE YESTERDAY BY FRANCE TO POLISH GOVERNMENT

Loan Brings on Bitter Fight in French Parliament

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Feb. 15.—A loan of 400,000,000 francs to Poland was voted by the French parliament today. It is officially described as for the purpose of improving Poland's financial and economic situation so that it may resume its proper place in the European concert of nations and play the role to which its geographical position and history entitle it.

The vote on the measure was was 515 to 68. Many of those who voted against it declared that the loan, while destined ostensibly for the organization of the Polish army against "unwarranted attack from the east" was really put thru as a means of coercion against Germany from the west."

The communists bitterly opposed the loan.

Deputy Blanc informed The Associated Press correspondent that one of the secret clauses of the agreement called for the purchase of war material to the amount of 100,000,000 francs from one of the largest ammunition and gun plants in France.

"The loan is plainly directed against Germany," he declared, "in the desire to strengthen Poland to do in Silicia what we are doing in the Ruhr."

WILL DETERMINE THE STABILITY OF FUNDS TRANSFERRED

Lending State Funds to Defunct Bank to be Probed

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 15.—An investigation to determine the stability of the transfer of funds from former State Treasurer Edward E. Miller to the incumbent, Oscar E. Nelson and a report that some "go-between" received a $2,000 commission for handling a state loan of $200,000 for the Woodriver Bank of Woodriver, Ill., is authorized and will be conducted by the house appropriations committee as the result of a resolution presented today by Ben L. Mitchell, Chicago, Democratic representative.

The resolution was placed in the committee's hands by the speaker.

The bank closed last November and is now being liquidated, having been placed in charge of a receiver, E. J. Verlie of Alton, this week.

State Treasurer Nelson has not accepted the account of the bank from Mr. Miller, and holds the latter's million dollar bond as security. Mr. Nelson said that as the bank failed before he took office and as Miller had most of the collateral and security covering the state loans in the bank, that he preferred to hold the bond, rather than take over the account of the bank. The state's deposits are fully secured, he said. He termed the collateral or security held by Mr. Miller as "good" but in the language of bankers would be termed as "slow."

The capital and surplus of the bank before closing was listed at $175,000.

Clarify Impressions

Another resolution was presented in the house today to clarify an impression that Illinois was a "wet" state by representation in congress, according to Representative Benson, Ottawa, an Independent, who introduced the resolution. It says that Illinois Congressmen and Yates were elected upon a "strictly dry platform, while their opponents, Gorman and Murphy, who campaigned on "strictly wet platforms" were defeated. It is explained that the state vote on the light wine and beer question was in the nature of a "straw vote" and that the majority thus piled up is not to be construed as the correct sentiment of Illinois citizens according to the congressional representation as both Rathbone and Yates were elected as "drys."

Copies of the resolution will be sent to the national congress and its presiding officers if it is adopted.

Speaker Shanahan, however, ruled that it remain on the table.

Women of the state would be given equal rights with men as precinct committeemen in a bill given to Representative Ralph Church for presentation by Walter Rosenfeld, chairman of the state Republican central committee.

The bill provides for statutory recognition, thus enabling one woman in each precinct to be named for every man so named. Representative Church presented a bill this morning asking for an appropriation of $40,000 for an electrical and mechanical device to be used by the house members in voting. It was referred to the appropriations committee. A bill regulating private hospital and other institutions and providing for methods of inspection and state regulation was introduced by Representative Williamson of Urbana.

A number of bills and resolutions were referred to various committees by the speaker. Both houses convene next Tuesday, with the house agreeing to work on Washington's Birthday, or Thursday.

BUTTER MARKET IN SELLERS' FAVOR

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—Extremely short supplies and indications of still lighter receipts placed the butter market much in the sellers' favor today. Trading was not very active but stocks were well cleaned up with values gradually advanced. Cars of 90 score centralized were very much in demand for delivery on February contracts. The price of this grade ranged from 50-51 cents to distributors, and 50½ cents on the clearing house call.

CONGRESSIONAL INVESTIGATION IS REQUESTED

Would Probe Enforced Retirement of Army Officer

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—A congressional investigation of the recent enforced retirement from the army of Major General Adelbert Cronkhite, eightieth division commander in France, was request today by Jennings C. Wise, who served as a lieutenant colonel in the division and who said that fifty thousand of his former comrades in arms under General Cronkhite were "determined to stand by their old commander."

The request was contained in a letter sent to Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, in which Colonel Wise revealed hat he was one of those who helped prepare a pamphlet recently circulated among members of congress setting forth the views of Colonel Cronkhite's friends regarding his retirement.

Senator Reed was not ready to announce whether he would comply with the request that he introduce a resolution of inquiry. Other senators, however, made known their intention to block confirmation of General Cronkhite's successor, Brigadier General Hanson E. Ely of the army service school at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, until the facts can be established.

In correspondence with the war department published in the pamphlet, General Cronkhite attributed his retirement to his activity in seeking to bring to justice those he held responsible for the death of his son, Major Alexander P. Cronkhite, who was mysteriously shot and killed in 1918 at Camp Lewis, Washington.

In one instance he was quoted as declaring that the attorney general had dropped the case at the request of Secretary Hoover, Senator Calder, Republican, New York, and others, a statement which resulted today in denials from both Mr. Hoover and Mr. Calder.

OLD CONDITION OF THINGS MUST GIVE WAY-KINLEY

Head of U. of I. Says Must Play Under New Rules

(By The Associated Press)

GALESBURG, Ill., Feb. 15.—The country is facing a new economic order and conditions which have prevailed since the founding of the nation must give way to new "rules of the game" David Kinley, president of the University of Illinois, declared here today at Founders' Day celebration of Knox College.

"We permitted many deeds by our economic pioneers which we cannot permit any longer," he declared. "We permitted waste. We permitted injustice as between man and man or between individuals and society. We permitted exploitation of the public resources to a degree that in many cases may well be called robbery. These things we can no longer permit.

"While our population was scarce and our resources practically untouched, there was little need of restraint of competition —'rules of the game'—so to speak. With a denser population with less economic opportunity for indivduals we must have rules of the game, regulaton of the exploitation of our national resources.

"We are bound if we are to be true to our ideals to preserve equality of economic opportunity as well as equality of political opportunity. This does not mean that all are to be well off. It does mean that every one shall have the opportunity to make himself as economically well off as his abilities permit, because in doing the best for himself under such conditions he will also be doing the best for the community.

"We are giving too much attention to the would-be social doctors who write books whose aim is to destroy American traditions, American ideals, American morality and American standards of religious life. We have been in and are now passing thru a period in which we have been emphasizing the necessity of strong central authority. We have been letting some of the power of our local units slip into the hands of the central government largely because we have failed in the discharge of our duties in our local governments.

"We are in duty bound as Americans to bear the burdens of economic, political and social improvements thru our governments nearest home instead of shirking the duty on the assumption that because we are putting it far from us we are getting rid of the burden. As a matter of fact we are only increasing it."

To the solution of the country's political and economic and social problems, President Kinley said the nation must look to the old ideals which brought the nation to its present stage of progress.

These ideals he declared were a deep and abiding faith in God and education, belief in the equality of men before the law, belief in the equality of economic and social opportunity for all, faith in achievement as a test of character and ability, belief in the value of the individual initiative and and self-reliance as a condition of economic success and political rights.

Railroad Earnings In December Large

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15. — Railroad earnings during December came close to setting a new high record or several years, according to complete returns of the class one carriers compiled today from interstate commerce commission records. Because of the heavy volume of traffic the total revenues from operation were $513,575,000 during the month or 20 per cent more than in December, 1921, and the net income was $79,154,000 as compered with $78,869,000 during the same month a year ago. This earning rate, if maintained for the year would give an annual return of 5.15 per cent on the value of all property used for transportation according to a statement of the association of railway executives commenting upon the returns.

For the entire year of 1922, the net income of class one railroads, the association estimated was $776,421,000, which actually represented a return of 4.14 per cent on railroad capital, and is still below the lead of earnings to which the interstate commerce commission has declared railroads entitled by its fair return standards.

In 1921 the net income of the same roads was $615,945,600. All railroads having annual revenues in excess of $1,000,000 are enumerated in the class one compilations and the totals given represent the earnings of more than eighty per cent of the entire rail system of the country.

While the extraordinary heavy business given the roads during December is officially attributed to the general betterment of business conditions and heavy crop movements, in some degree it is also held to be due to the damming up of commerce during the summer months by the prolonged rail and coal strikes. Car shortages, which marked the fall months also tended to throw a heavier business than normal into the December period. The executives' statement pointed out that during December the railroads began to get better of the car situation in that their expenditures for repair for cars rose to $116,810,566 or 25 per cent above those made in the same month a year ago with the result that the number of cars awaiting repairs at the end of the month was 10,277 less than it was at the beginning of the month.

Reorganization Plans Sent to Committees

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Details of the proposed reorganization of the government problems as worked out by Walter F. Brown of Ohio, ex-officio chairman of the joint congressional committee appointed to consider the subject in consultation with some cabinet members and other officials and recently approved by President Harding were forwarded to the joint committee today. At a meeting tomorrow the committee is expected to take up the proposals and at least use them as a basis for further study.

Outstanding among the recommendations is the proposal to consolidate the war and navy departments into a department of national defense and to establish a department of education and welfare.

Numerous transfers of bureaus would be brought about under the plan which seeks to attach to each department all of its dependent establishments except those performing quasi judicial functions or acting as service agencies for all departments. Control of the forest lands which it is understood has resulted in conflicting views within the cabinet, would remain in the department of agriculture.

The question of transferring the forestry bureau to the department of interior is said to have been a stumbling block in committee consideration of reorganization plans and to have led to delay in its completing its work.

Three under secretaries would be provided to the new department of defense in charge of the army, navy and national resources respectively.

The proposed department of education and welfare would include four major sub-divisions each in charge of an assistant secretary as follows:

Education, health, social service and veterans' relief.

The bureau of mines and patent office would be transferred from the department of interior to the department of commerce. The latter would receive also the life saving service (coast guard) from the treasury department while the lake survey, the inland and coastwise waterway service would be transferred to it from the war department.

A bill has been introduced in the Illinois general assembly which would increase the lawful speed of automobiles from 30 to 35 miles an hour. Since the law is so consistently violated by car drivers and that fact is a matter of common knowledge, it really does not make much difference about the figure that the statute contains.

A resolution introduced in the Wisconsin legislature that both houses reaffirm faith in Senator LaFollette because of "libels on his loyalty" will no doubt be adopted. This prophecy is based upon recollection that Senator LaFollette in the last election had the neat little majority of 243,000.

If the members of the legislature represent the sentiment of the state there can be no doubt about the vote on the resolution.

The Illinois Automobile association recently went on record as opposed to another state bond issue for hard roads extension. The action was taken over the vigorous protest of representatives from Blomington, Decatur, Peoria, Springfield and other down state cities.

Evidently the association action was controlled by the Cook county delegates, who are not nearly as strong for hard road extension as are the residents of the down state counties.

The traveling salesmen and others who use railroad trains frequently are earnestly hoping that the order will stand which requires the railroads of the country to issue mileage books good for traveling 2500 miles at a discount of 20 percent.

It is estimated that the sales of these books will reduce railroad revenues about $60,000,000 a year. On the other hand, it is expected that the greater activity of traveling salesmen will mean heavy increase in commodity sales and consequently in freight movement and earnings.

At any rate, traveling men are quite happy over the prospect of both convenience of mileage books and the saving possible by their use.

The surprising information was broadcasted recently that certain U. S. shipping board vessels handling South American trade are doing an increasingly good business because they are dry. It is said that the South Americans have found it much more satisfactory to have the members of their families travel on ships where dry conditions prevail. This is an especially surprising report since it was only a few months ago that various prominent men were insistent that the shipping business so far as the U. S. is concerned, would be ruined by the prohibition law.

YOUR RATING (NEA)

The world's most perfect servant is claimed by the Pullman Company. He is David G. Scott, 77 years old. Scott had to retire from regular work in 1914, but he still has his uniform and goes to work when the sleepers run out of porters and flash the emergency call.

Scott served as a porter for nearly 45 years. During all that time he received 476 credit marks and not one demerit or complaint. As in many other organizations, porters have their rating, and kicks or boosts are registered on their grade cards.

This is a remarkable record. It is no easy thing to satisfy all comers for one generation, let alone several generations. Scott started as a porter in 1870. He was able to adapt himself to changing times. During his many years of service he must have had to put up with thousands of cantankerous people who were about as easy to handle as hot stovelids upside down on the floor.

No matter how good we average, we are judged more by our mistakes than our good points. A cynical statement, possibly, but true. There is something about the average person, living in a high-strung nervous age, that seems to keep him constantly watching for something to object to.

Good and courteous service, we take as a matter of course. But let some person crack under the strain of handling the public, and the immediate come-back is: "I'll report you."

It rarely occurs to us to report good treatment.

Man by nature is a critical destroyer, rather than a constructive upbuilder.

You know how the crowd reacts to a ballplayer when he makes a few slips, regardless of his good record on the average. And, the better the player, the louder and more savage the criticism for an error.

So it goes with all of us in our daily lives. One mistake may be overlooked, but several mistakes bring the exit sign dangerously close.

Get slow or discourteous service three or four times in a store, and you decide that the store's entire service is bad from beginning to end.

A painter doesn't have to slip many times to fall off the ladder. The greatest destroyers of careers are inaccuracy, unreliability and chronic unpleasantness or occasional outbursts of temper.

In studying the causes of success, it is fatal to neglect the study of the causes of failure.

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

Surest Thing You Know

By Berton Braley

I LIKE originality.
I hate trite phrases, give me credit;
That lingo makes no hit with me,
You said it!

I'LL tell the world I hate these birds
Who steal their stuff and always show it
By springing Baer's or Dorgan's words,
You know it!

THEIR line of talk gives me a peeve,
Their parrot phrases sure do fret me,
They win the leaden razor, Steve,
You get me?

NOBODY home; their brains are dead,
All their remarks are dull and drouthful.
Ain't it the truth? Oh, boy, you said
A mouthful.

THEY'RE apple sauce, they're solid bone,
They're dumbbells and they'll always stay so;
They shouldn't be let out alone,
I'll say so!

LISTEN, why can't they shoot a line
That shows they've used the cerebellum?
Originality for mine—
You tell 'em!

REPORTS SURPLUS AFTER PAYING DIVIDENDS

New York, Feb. 15.—A surplus of $2,113,428 after paying dividends of $8,439,248, was disclosed today in the report of the trustees of the aMckay companies for the eleven months which ended Dec. 31, 1922. The company is the holding company for the Commercial Cable company and the Postal Telegraph system.

In a statement President Clarence H. Mackay noted the great advances made in radio during the past year.

Narrow minds overlook a charitable act and search for the motive.

"THE CIRCLE" PLEASED A LARGE AUDIENCE

It is seldom that a company including so many stars has visited Jacksonville as the audience found in "The Circle" presented at the Grand Opera house last night. It was indeed an all star cast, including the well known Wilton Lackaye, Henry E. Dixey, Amelia Bingham, Charlotte Walker and Norman Hackett.

The Selwyns certainly chose wisely in selecting this group of players for the presentation of "The Circle," which was announced as a comedy but which could with greater propriety be termed a satire. The play with its English setting, furnishes a fine vehicle for the ability of these players, known from coast to coast. The large audience present last night found the presentation satisfying in every way, for "The Circle" is well cast and the stage settings and costuming left nothing to be desired.

The play early introduced Arnold Champion-Cheney, member of parliament, and his wife Elizabeth. The two are illmated and have varying tastes which eventually lead to numerous difficulties.

Thirty years before the first act Arnold's mother, Lady Kittle, ran away from her husband and little boy with Lord Porpous. In the opening scene of "The Circle" Elizabeth has just persuaded her peevish husband to invite the mother, whom he does not remember, and her wealthy lover to visit them. On the day of the arrival of the couple Arnold's father, who was in this instance the discarded husband, unexpectedly appears and so after thirty years the eternal triangle is found under the one roof. The situation is developed in a delightfully humorous way. It goes without saying that the plot is one requiring artistic development and that was possible thru "The Circle's" cast.

Manager Scott certainly brought an attraction of high class to the Grand.

PLEASING PROGRAM AT MURRAYVILLE CHURCH

Ladies of M. E. Church Hold Birthday Social Thursday Afternoon—Series of Tableaux Given.

Murrayville, Feb. 15—The ladies of the Murrayville M. E. church whose birthdays occur in December, January and February were hostesses at a social held Thursday afternoon at the church. The program of the afternoon was arranged by a committee including Mrs. Albert Hayes, chairman; Mrs. H. B. Daniel and Mrs. Maude Rimby.

The program was an exceedingly interesting one and was enjoyed by a large number. The church parlors had been handsomely decorated for the event, the national colors being conspicuously in evidence.

A series of tableaux was given, representing the three months, December, January and February. In the first tableau representing the first Christmas, was seen the Christ child lying in the manger. Mrs. Jessie Hayes took the part of the angel in this scene while Mrs. Mabel Walker personified Mary, the mother of Jesus.

In the second tableau Father Time was represented by Miss Atkinson, little Eleanor Fuller Rimbey also appearing in this scene.

The third picture represented the Morgan county centennial. Justice, personified by Mrs Jessie Hayes, appeared in the background. Rev. W. C. Harms represented the church; Mrs. Fannie Sooy typified education; Mrs. Anna Lamb represented industry. Mrs. Eliza Million represented the home, her little granddaughter kneeling at her side. It had been hoped to have four Morgan county generations represented in this scene, but it was impossible for them all to be present.

February was represented by tableaux of Lincoln and Washington and St. Valentine's day. Frank Sooy appeared as Abraham Lincoln, Mr. Fuller, a Civil War veteran, standing at his side. Warren Wright represented Washington, Miss Mildred Wright dressed in a colonial costume appearing with him.

The St. Valentine's tableau was especially pretty. A large valentine occupied the center of the stage, little Eleanor Fuller Rimbey forming a part of the valentine scheme. As a part of this scene Mrs. Rimbey and Mrs Walker sang "Love's Old Sweet Song."

The final picture showed Justice holding a large American flag. A world war veteran enterer, saluted the flag and then grasped the hands of the Revolutionary soldier and the Civil war veteran. As the folds of the flag enveloped all three "The Star Spangled Banner" was sung by the ladies who were in charge of the program.

The program also included a reading of "The House by the Side of the Road", given by Mrs. Mary Wright. A sketch of Lincoln's life was given by Miss Hannah Atkinson, while Mrs. Rees Jones gave birthday greetings. An original poem, "Milestones" was given by Mrs. H. B. Daniel. Mrs. Nettie Million served as accompanist during most of the program. One pleasing feature of the program was the singing of "The Babe in the Manger" by Little Robert Paul Carlson, this being given during the tableau of the first Christmas. Mrs. Collins was the accompanist for this number, and also for the duet by Mrs. Rimbey and Mrs. Walker.

The refreshments which were served during the afternoon consisted of chicken sandwiches in fancy designs, lettuce and beet salad, brick ice cream, angel food cake and coffee. The refreshments were especially attractive in coloring and arrangement, Mrs. Susan Carlson being the chairman of the committee in charge of the refreshments.

Special dance, Auto Inn, Wednesday night, Feb. 21st. E. W. Shaw's Imperial Orchestra of St. Louis. 10c per dance as usual charge.

ATHLETES' WORK IN "ALL-AROUND"

Urbana, Ill.—When the average person reads that some athlete has won an all-around championship, he has little idea of just what that achievement meant in point of earnest training and sacrifice on the part of the champion.

Take the all-around indoor championship which will be a feaure of the Illinois relay carnival at the University of Illinois on Saturday afternoon, March 3. There are seven events—pole vault, shot put, 75-yard dash, high and broad jumps, 75-yard high hurdles, and half mile run. Contenders in the all-around must enter all these events, one after another. That means they must have pletny of stamina first of all.

The championship is scored on a point basis, taking the Big Ten records in the events contested as 1000. For instance, Osborne of Illinois, all-around champion last year, polevaulted 11 feet 5 1-2 inches. The Big Ten record is 12 feet 8 1-4 inches. Osborne was credited wth 764 points out of a possible 1,000. In this case starting at 7 feet 6 inches, 16 points an inch was scored. Similar ratings are made in the other events.

When Osborne won the championship from Brutus Hamilton of Missouri it meant earnest, conscientious training for four years. Coach Harry Gill saw Osborne's prospective talent as an all-around star and coached him with the goal in view. In 1920 and 1921 Hamilton defeated the Illinois man but his triumph came last year.

With Hamilton and Osborne gone, there will be a new champion Illinois will present as a contender Henry R. Mathias, who placed third in the championship last year. Mathias is not an outstanding star like Osborne but he is a hard worker and may have a chance unless some dark horses are uncovered. Mathias is a senior from Chicago.

ST. VIATORS TRIMS ILLINOIS COLLEGE

Blue and White Tossers Lose by Score of 43 to 11—Coach Harmon Used all Second String Men in Game.

Coach Harmon used an entire team of second string men in the game with St. Viators last night and lost the game by a score of 43 to 11.

Talking with the Journal over the telephone last night Coach Harmon said the first string men were pretty tired from their game with Illinois Normal and subsequent trip to play St. Viators.

With games ahead of them with DeKalb Normal and Northwestern College tonight and tomorrow night Harmon thought it would be better to give them a rest and try to win the next two games, hence the use of the second string men. He also figured it would be a good thing for the men to get some first hand experience.

St. Viators after getting the game on ice used many of her second string men. However, St. Viators always has a strong squad and the defeat was not a surprise to supporters of Illinois. The score:

WHITE HALL

The third quarterly community forum was held in Princess theatre Sunday night under auspices of the First Baptist church and there was a good attendance. The music was by the K. of P. band and the congregation and a free will offering for the band amounted to $75.00. There was also a vocal number by Russell Knox. Aside from the address by the pastor, Rev. L. E. Ellison, there was also an address on "Loyalty" by Edward C. Pearce. The arrangements were in the interest of the band, and it was the first instance in local annals where the band was given such a boost by an organization entirely apart from the band itself, and the net result has been conducive to the larger welfare of the White Hall musical organization. The speakers emphasized the necessity of a band, and that the band has all along been exceedingly generous with its services for community affairs, rendering it appropriate that this turn should be taken to show gratitude on the part of the general community.

Particulars of Boy's Death.

Particulars of the death of Clarence Guy in the vicinity of Athensvile have been brought to town by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dugger, who were out in the neighborhood over Sunday. The boy made his home with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. David Vandever, three miles west of Athensville. Friday morning he started on horseback to the home of Mrs. W. H. Pembrook to get another horse and make a team for hauling some coal. Within a short distance of the Pembrook home his horse was seen to stand in one position about twenty minutes, when his mother went to the spot and found he boy lying in a pool of blood in an unconscious condition. He was moved to the Pembrook home, where death ensued at 1 p. m. Saturday.

Investigation revealed that the horse stumbled and threw the boy off on his head onto the frozen ground. The left eye was swollen and the left ear hurt, and there were other lesser marks of the results of the fall. The accident occurred about a. m. Friday.

The boy was attending the Mt. Airy district school, and would have entered high school next term. He was an interesting young man. His father, Norman Guy, left for parts unknown several years ago, and all efforts to locate him have been unavailing. The mother is now the wife of Willis Marshall of Roodhouse, and she was at the home of her parents at the time of the accident, being the first to investigae and find the prostrate form of her son.

Funeral serices were held in Union church, eleen miles east of White Hall, at 2 o'clock Monday, the discourse being delivered by Rev. Mr. Bryan, pastor of the Christian church at Scottville. Burial was in Union cemetery, adjoining the church.

KU KLUX KLAN MADE THEME OF ADDRESS

Dr. L. A. Browne of Atlanta Speaks at Public Meeting Held In High School Auditorium.

Dr. Lester A. Browne made an address in the high school auditorium Thursday night on the Ku Klux Klan before an audience of several hundred people. Four masked men wearing the regalia of the order had seats upon the platform and one of them introduced the speaker.

The statement was made that a great majority of the papers of the country are opposed to the Ku Klux Klan and that it is for this reason that lecturers go thruout the country making addresses and telling the facts about the order.

Dr. Browne is a Methodist minister and his address last night revealed his familiarity with the scriptures and quotations from the Bible were liberally interpersed thruout his remarks. An American flag on a pedestal was placed at the left of the speaker and at his right a flaming cross, constructed of small electric bulbs.

The speaker declared that the Ku Klux Klan believes first of all in the tenets of the Christian religion. It advocates free speech and free assemblage and is devoted to the upholding of the constitution of the U. S.

Answering the charge that the Klan does harm by its clandestine methods of meeting, at night time, Dr. Browne said that Nicodemus went by night to see the Master. He told the Bible story of how a city fell at night before the Gideon and his band, who with horns in one hand and pitchers in the other made a great noise outside the city wall.

The speaker mentioned that instead of taking law into their own hands that Klansmen pledge themselves to uphold the law and take oath that they will not do violence. He said that while thousands of charges of wrong doing in this regard has been made against the Klan, that not one single charge has been proven. This was true, he said, in the troubles in Louisiana.

Then he went on to say that the Ku Klux Klan did not claim that all men on its membership roll are perfect—that the order was no more immune from black sheep than are other orders and churches.

Dr. Browne did not speak at all in an inflammatory vein, but emphasized the principles of the organization as he sees them, and declared that he had no ill will against any man who did not agree with him in his views.

MUTT AND JEFF AT THE GRAND

If Little Jeff of the famous team of Mutt and Jeff, those two comics of cartoon fame, has been a martyr in the past he, like the prodigal son, has at last come into his own. Not so long ago Mutt betook to himself a wife. Jeff followed soon after, but the marriage life of Mutt has not been one path of roses and soft earth. In the latest musical triumph built around the best escapades of Bud Fisher's world-renowned creations, Jeff essays to make Mutt's domestic career smoother than it is. The result can be better imagined than rescribed. The new play, which is in two acts and six scenes, with the most novel story and plot evolved since the twain became the public favorites they are, runs the gamut of some of the heartiest laughter and merriment heard in a theater in many years. It is entitled "Mutt and Jeff's Honeymoon," and will be the next attraction at the Grand theater, Monday, February 19. Twenty-five song hits, any amount of inimitable novelties, innovations, features, screams, surprises and original ingredients will be introduced. The supporting cast is said to be exceptionally competent.

BANQUET AT CENTRAL CHURCH IS SUCCESS

Two Hundred Men and Boys Enjoy Fine Supper and Good Program—Pictures Delight Audience.

About two hundred fathers and sons of the Central Christian church attended the annual banquet at the church last evening. At 6:30 o'clock a splendid supper was served. Frank Byrns presided as toastmaster during the program which followed. The numbers appeared according to schedule as follows:

State's Attorney Carl E. Hobinson delivered a forceful address on keeping the boys in Sunday school. Mr. Robinson gave the assembled men and boys some plain talk on the subject, urging attendance of both fathers and sons at religious services.

Musical numbers were furnished by the Troop Four orchestra of Boy Scouts, who greatly delighted their audience. A violin solo by Yale Pontius was also a part of the musical program. Toward the conclusion of the meeting, Messrs. Dempsey and Oldham, students at the Illinois School for the Blind, bave some vocal selections. Mr. Dempsey sang ::The Plains of Peace," and Mr. Oldham sang "My Buddy" and "Mammy's Song."

Mrs. Ben Roodhouse delighted the crowd with a reading, and when encored, read a sketch entitled "The Suffragits will Git You ef You Don't Watch Out." John Bolman and Ben Roodhouse gave brief talks, the former discussing the boy's relation to the church, and the latter having for his subject the boy in the Sunday school.

Two reels of clean and wholesome comedy, which caused much merry laughter, concluded the program. The ladies who served the banquet were given a round of roaring applause in appreciation of their efforts.

MENTAL PICTURES OF DOG CAUSE MIRTH

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15—Mental pictures of "Laddie Boy" running around the white house with a tin can attached to his tail, touched the funny bone of the house today to such an extent that business was stopped for a few minutes.

Representative MacLafferty, Republican, California, made the suggestion that such a degradation of the aristocrat of the canine world and the official presidential dog was not impossible. During debate on the navy omnibus bill, Repreesntative Blanton, Democrat, Texas, said the marine band was a "society band" which spent its time playing at the white house and at "high social functions." Mr. MacLafferty interrupted to ask if the Texas representative wished to reduce music at the white house to a degree when it would consist only of "Laddie Boy" dashing madly about a few inches in advance of a tomato can.

Democratic members who owned dogs of Democratic learnings roared approval of the idea, but when the debate had ended continued functioning of the marine band was assured with a consequent lessening of the possibility of harassment of "Laddie Boy."

TWO BOARD MEETINGS THURSDAY EVENING

Chamber of Commerce Directors and Forum Board Held Sessions—Pep Meeting will be Held Feb. 27—C. of C. to Aid in Managing Swimming Pool

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce held its regular meeting last evening, with J. W. Merrigan, the vice president, in the chair. The board was in conference with A. C. Metcalf of the park board on the projected regulations for the new swimming pool at Nichols park. The board agreed to appoint a committee from the Chamber of Commerce to co-operate with the park board in managing the pool.

Prospective improvements for the tourist camp site at the park were discussed. It was decided to print a map of the city in folder form, on which would be marked the route of the new city tour, and which would contain various facts and information about the city. This will be for free distribution to tourists.

The Forum membership board held a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon, at which it was decided that the board would take over the management of the supplementary membership drive. Forum President J. H. Dial was in the chair. The board decided to stage a pep meeting on Feb. 27, at which all members of the Chamber of Commerce are urged to be present. It is expected to have speakers here who will tell the members something of what other Chambers of Commerce are doing. Following this meeting, the supplementary drive for new members will be launched.

However, if he does come to this city, it will be about March 2. The forum board is outlining membership meetings for two or three months ahead, and the schedule will be announced later.

The purpose is to plant trees in needed spots in Jacksonville and along the highways approaching the city. The expectation is to work in conjunction with the city and county officials and the property owners. It will take a good deal of organization work to properly handle this program and this work will be directed by a committee including Dr. W. P. Duncan, J. W. Elliott, W. H. Cocking and T. W. Beadle.

Reports at the business session were made by John Larson for the membership committee, W. A. Berryman for the student pension fund committee, and J. Weir Elliott for the public relations committee.

There has been an unusually large enrollment in the department of physical education at the Woman's college this year and it has been found necessary to engage a full time assistant for Miss Nellie Boyd, director of the department.

Miss Graybeal is a graduate of the Columbia Normal school of Physical Education in Chicago, and comes to the college well recommended and highly qualified for the work. She has recently returned from Europe where she spent the past three and a half years in recreational work. She was the physical director of the Y. W. C. A. in Poland and during the two and a half years spent there, she established a recreational center which since her departure is being carried on by the Polish people themselves. Before going to Poland, Miss Graybeal was in the canteen recreational work with the Y. M. C. A. in France.

OBITUARY.

John M. Allyn, Jr., son of John M. and Jennie McCullough Allyn of St. Louis, Mo., was born October 26, 1882, at Riggston, Ill., the home of his grandfather, William McCullough. He had unusual affection and evergrowing love for his grandparents and their family and home for it was here that he spent many summers during his boyhood. At the age of one and a half years, he suffered a severe illness which left him with a frailty through life that he bore with much failing courage. He was graduated from Washington university in 1902. Endowed with unique ability as a draftsman, he has been employed since his graduation in the engineering department of the Missouri Pacific Railway Co.

On November 23, 1910, he was married at Winchester, Ill., to Louise Strope, of St. Louis. She with one son, Robert Van, aged 7, survive him. He also leaves his father and mother and one sister, Lillian J. Allyn.

Mr. Allyn died on Sunday, February 11, 1923, in St. Louis. He lay at rest at the home of his father and mother, where on Monday short and impressive services were conducted by Rev. W. Wilk. On Tuesday his body was brought to his birthplace now the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McCullough at Riggston.

Funeral services were held at 3 o'clock in charge of Rev. E. T. Palmer, of Bluffs. Mrs. Allen McCullough sang two songs, "Goodnight" and "Lead Kindly Light." The many beautiful flowers were cared for by Mrs. Paul Markille, Miss Irene McCullough, Miss Allen McCullough, Mrs. Clifford Allan, Mrs. Robert H. Allan, Mrs. W. A. Fay.

The pall bearers were Allan McCullough, Paul Markille, Robert H. Allan, W. A. Fay and Buel Hornbeck.

At the grave in Gillham cemetery, fervent prayer was offered by an uncle, G. Howard McCullough.

He is not dead. He is just away,
With a cheering smile and a wave of the hand
He has wandered into an unknown land,
And left us dreaming how very fair
It needs must be since he lingers there;
Think of him in the same old way,
He is not dead, he is just away.

What Does It Mean to 'Have Your Block Ground'

The inside of your motor is as delicate as the inside of the human body.

A few particles of foreign matter left inside will often start total destruction of the engine.

We wash each part thoroughly and we use great care in assembly in order that the car will stand up and give the mileage built into it.

Main shaft alignment is very important, second only to the cylinders. The tendency is to spring out of line in the center bearing and wear out of round on the crank pins. In order to overcome this wear and make like new, the shaft must be refinished. This delicate and exact machine work is also performed on a grinder. This machine is more complicated than the cylinder grinder.

SHE TESTIFIES TO HELP OTHERS

Hoping to Aid Afflicted, Peoria Lady Tells How Tanlac Ended Long Standing Trouble.

"To start with I had very little faith in Tanlac, but since the treatment has rid me of my troubles I don't believe it has an equal," said Mrs. Agnes Ummel, 1161 Webster St., Peoria, Ill., the other day.

"After suffering for three years from nervous indigestion I was eating scarcely a thing and was terribly run down. Gas and biliousness caused me no end of misery, my sleep was restless, and I was getting worse all the time. Why, I was unable to do my house work, and had about given up hope of getting well when my sister suggested that I try Tanlac.

"Well, to make a long story short, this treatment worked so fast in my case that four bottles has restored me to perfect health. I never miss a chance to praise Tanlac, and I hope this statement will be of benefit to others."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Over thirty-five million bottles sold.—Adv.

Dr. F. H. Metcalf of Franklin, Dr. George Webster of Murrayville and Dr. J. W. Eckman of Winchester were among midweek professional callers in Jacksonville.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lippert were listed among Thursday arrivals in the city from Concord.

Morgan County's Centenary

County Established January 31, 1823

Some Pioneer History

FROM MANUSCRIPTS OF FRANK J. HEINL

In compiling this story of a century ago errors may have crept in and important facts may have been omitted. Suggestions and corrections will be acceptable.

Dr. Cadwell was a member of the state senate in 1823 when Morgan county was organized. The first election was called to be held March 17, 1823, in the house of James G. Swinnerton and the temporary county seat was fixed at Olmstead's Mound. Dr. Cadwell undoubtedly was influential in securing these locations. They were both adjacent to his proposed town of Quincy.

Deaton Settlement

The Deaton settlement had a number of settlers. James Deaton settled there in 1820 and was soon joined by his son, Levi, Robert James, Aaron Wilson, who later became the county's second probate judge, Abraham Johnson, who soon opened a little store, near a mill built by James Deaton. Isaac and Martin Dial, Alfred and James Mills, Abraham Reid and others.

In 1821 the Rev. Samuel Bristow, accompanied by the Rev. Jacob Bowyer, Reid and Moses Carlock families settled on Box's Branch, now known as Snake Creek, not far from the Deaton settlement.

Upper Mauvaisterre Settlements

During and soon after 1820 quite a number of settlers located on the branches of the Mauvaisterre creek east of the present Jacksonville. Among them were James Magill, who soon erected a little mill; William Scott, John Green, a Christian preacher; Joseph Bradshaw, Pierce Holmes, father of the late Rev. Daniel D. Holmes; Peleg Sweet, a preacher, John Wyatt, father of the late William J. Wyatt, John Sample, Robert Cole, Montgomery Pitner, Jesse Ruble, James Kerr, Samuel T. Mathews, Ancil Cox, Joseph Buchanan, Michael Antyl, Samuel Scott, Joseph Slattern, I. R. Bennett, William Jackson, Elijah Bacon, John Deeds, Clayton Coker, Michael Huffaker, John and Alexander Robertson, John Redding, Jacob Stout, Allen A. Lindsay, Johnston Shelton and others.

Olmsted's Mound Settlement

In the vicinity of Olmsted's, now called Allison's Mound, were located Stephen Olmsted, Dr. George Cadwell, A. K. Barber, John Leach, James G. Swinnerton, Adam Allison, Thomas P. Clark, who brought with him his slave boy, Andrew Jackson who was in later years a preacher, and opened a store; Dennis Rockwell, first circuit and county clerk of the county, and first postmaster of Jacksonville; Dr. Ero Chandler and others. These settlers were located in the forest which extended eastward from the Mound along Cadwell's branch in a point shape into the wide prairie.

"Point Or Turn Around"

Brown opened a tavern about seven miles south of the site of Jacksonville and there had located near him members of the Shepard and several other families.

In the vicinity of the present Franklin was the head of Apple Creek settlement, with James H. Weatherford, Abner Van Winkle, Franklin Keplinger and others as pioneer settlers.

Lower Mauvaisterre Settlements

Along the lower Mauvaisterre creek were located Murray McConnell, Josiah Williams, Baxter Broadwell, Lewis G. Newell, Alexander Beall, some of the Gillhams and several others. About Naples there had gathered a number of settlers, one of whom was W. B. Green to whom the county commissioners granted a ferry license in 1824. Mr. Green was the first sheriff of the county.

Scattered around the present site of Jacksonville were several settlers, located outside these settlements, and among them were Joseph Buckley, Thomas Arnett, James B. Crum, William C. Posey S. S. Duncan, William S. Jordan, W. S. McPherson, Joshua Sprague and John Leeper. Archibald Job had located near the present Virginia in 1820. Mr. Job in 1824 was elected representative in the legislature from Morgan county and in 1826 was elected state senator.

Seymour Kellogg

Seymour Kellogg operated a store at Exeter. He was elected a county commissioner of Greene county in 1821 and was appointed a justice of the peace for Morgan county in 1823. As justice of the peace, his name appears frequently on the early county records in connection with important matters.

Seymour Kellogg went from the Deaton Settlement to St. Louis on a trading expedition. Doubtlessly he frequently made trips of this kind in connection with his business at Exeter. In April 1827 while in St. Louis he died at the home of his daughter, Adeline, wife of the Charles Collins who came with the Kelloggs to Mauvaiseterre in 1819.

His widow lived until 1855 and her remains were interred in the Waverly, Illinois, cemetery. Above her grave stands a modest stone inscribed "Nancy Kellogg, Died, April 30, 1855, Aged 62 years, 11 months and 18 days."

Elisha Kellogg

Elisha Kellogg on his farm conducted a tavern and became infected with the town-site fever. In 1832 he and a son-in-law placed on record a plat of the town of Geneva. It was located just a half-mile west of the present county line, the Campbell cemetery, on the road between Jacksonville and Exeter. The old state road was the town's main street. But town lots there were not in great demand. In fact no one bought any of them altho at one time Geneva is said to have had a hotel, post office, several stores, a distillery, corn mill and dance hall. At one time the Mormons attempted to erect a tabernacle there, but the material for the building was burned by angry neighbors.

Elisha Kellogg and his family became involved in considerable litigation, which may have been the result of political or religious feuds. Before the termination of the litigation in which he was involved, Elisha Kellogg's wanderlust spurred him on to more pioneering and he removed to Jo Davies county, Illinois, in 1834.

Elisha's pioneer wife, Elizabeth, died May 15, 1832 and her body was buried on the home farm.

Charles Collins

Charles Collins who came here with the Kelloggs in 1819, married Colonel Kellogg's daughter Adeline and removed to St. Louis where he prospered and acquired large tracts of lands in Cass, Morgan, Scott and Greene counties. In 1836 he laid out a large addition to Naples. In 1836 and 1837 he built a wooden railroad extending about two miles east from Naples and became involved financially. The Hannibal branch of the Wabash railroad uses the old Collins roadbed. In 1837, Charles Collins was one of the contractors for the construction of the Northern Cross Railroad. In 1839 Charles Collins and Myron Leslie laid out the town of Morgan City which was for a time the eastern terminus of the northern Cross Railroad. They hoped to eventually make it the county seat. A few stores and a number of residences were built there but the town proved a failure. Mr. Collins died in St. Louis in 1842.

In 1819 sixteen Kelloggs and Charles Collins became Morgan county's first white settlers. Today, so far as is known, no descendents of either resides in the county.

WIDE FLUCTUATIONS MARK SUGAR MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Wide fluctuations in prices featured the sugar market again today. It recovered from an opening break of 56 to 73 points on overnight selling orders and closed only 22 to 40 points below the previous day's quotations. The decline was checked by fairly good buying by shorts and commission houses part of the rally being attributed to refiners in naming prices of .80 to .930 for fine granulated.

Altogether the market showed a decline of about 2 cents a pound for the extreme high of the movement.

In the spot market more confidence also developed and sales of 40,000 bags were reported at 4⅝ cents, cost and freight, to refiners and operators which compared with the recent high price of 5 7-16.

—o—

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Speculators for the advance succeeded in bidding up prices in today's stock market but they were hampered by a large volume of profit taking by the higher call money rate, which opened a 5, advanced to 5½ and then 6 and fell back to 5 again at the close.

Fresh buying power centered largely in the independent steel, oil and copper company shares, but a number of specialties were bid up sharply for individual reasons.

Foreign news developments were largely ignored, but the year's high for sterling had a cheerful effect on sentiment. Higher prices for crude oil, zinc and copper, the latter being quoted at a new high record of 15½c a pound, stimulated the buying of shares in those groups. The apparently chaotic condition of the Cuban raw futures and refined sugar markets imparted an irregular trend to the sugar company issues.

New high records for the year were made by a number of stocks.

Pool operations were conducted with increased vigor in all parts of the list.

Time money was offered at 5 per cent for all days with brokers taking some for 90 days and longer but bidding only 4¾ for the shorter mauriies. Commercial paper cotninued moderately active with the bulk of the prime names commanding 4½ per cent.

Foreign exchanges were firm. Irregular price movements took place in the day's bond market but the main tendency was upward. United States government securiies were inclined to ease in response to the delay in the senate vote on th debt funding bill.

Th old U. S. Government 4¼s per cent showed net losses of 4 to 8 cents on $100, the other active issues closing 2 to 4c higher.

WAVES OF SELLING BRING DOWN PRICES

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—Waves of selling that totaled well into millions of bushels brought about a sudden fall of values in the wheat market today. The bulk of the selling was ascribed to eastern interests which until today had clung to hopes of the enactment of an export credit bill at Washington. Prices closed weak 2 to 4⅛c net lower, with May $1.19⅞ to $1.20 and July $1.14⅞ to $1.15.

Corn lost ⅞ to 1⅛c, oats ⅜c to ⅝c, and provisions 5 to 12c.

At first, the wheat market showed apparent strength with a moderate amount of buying based on continued cold weather in the winter crop belt and on higher quotations at Liverpool. Upturns in price however, went no higher than 1c and lasted only about a single hour. From that stage onward the selling came in such volume that except for brief intervals the descent of prices was practically unchecked and the finish was at the lowest level reached. All of the gains of the last week or ten days in the wheat market were wiped out by the drastic setback today. Rumors that there had been a settlement made privately beween Eastern longs and western shorts brought forth prompt denials. May wheat led the decline and it was this delivery in particular which was affected chiefly by selling orders from the east. According to current gossip, the greater part of the holdings liquidated today were closed out at a profit.

Corn and oats were governed by the action of wheat. Rains in the Argentina had some bearish effect. In the provision market the influence of higher prices on hogs was more than counterbalanced by the weakness of grain.

CASH WHEAT WAS LOWER YESTERDAY

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—Wheat in the cash market today was lower with the futures. Premiums and discounts were nominally unchanged. Cash sales here were only 15,000 bushels all to millers. The seaboard said some wheat was worked for export but gave no figures.

Corn prices were 1½c easier with the trading basis unchanged. Cash sales here were 42,000 bushels.

Oats closed ⅜c easier. Trading bases were unchanged to ½c better. Shipping sales here were 60,000 bushels.

Cars inspected: Wheat, 5; Corn, 179; Oats, 29.

ORDERS BOXING STOPPED IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Feb. 15—Boxing which for the last six months had flourished in Chicago to such an extent that ordinary matches drew from 8,00 to 10,000 without newspaper publicity and only those in the inside knew where they were to be staged was ordered stopped by Chief of Police Fitzmorris tonight.

The action is the result of a campaign waged by the Chicago Law and Order League which had its investigators play hide and seek with the boxing fans to obtain sufficient evidence to present to Mayor Thompson. The mayor Directed Chief Fitzmorris to issue orders to all commanding police officers to prevent future matches

The contests prohibited in the state by laws have been staged in remote sections of the city almost every night with capacity crowds in attendance. The locations of the matches were not revealed in newspapers which merely referred to them as being staged before a "suburban club."

The order against boxing was so strictly enforced that "Kid" Howard, owner of a gymnasium where boxers train was arrested today because one of his boxing instructors engaged in an exhibition with a pupil. The arrest was made the police said because a 25 cent admission was charged to those desiring to see the professionals in training bouts.

ROUTT HIGH WILL MEET BARRY TONIGHT

To Play Like County Aggregation in Liberty Hall—Route Line up Changed.

Routt high school will clash with Barry in Liberty hall this evening. The game will be called at 8:15 o'clock and a fast contest is expected.

Routt has put in a busy week preparing for the game. Not much is known of the strength of the Barry squad this year but they always have a good team and the local tossers do not intend to be caught napping.

Owing to sickness and other causes it is probable that followers of Routt will see several new faces in the lineup for the team this evening. It is thought that Coach Coonen will have to use a number of second string men and also make some shifts in his lineup.

Anyone wishing to secure tickets may do so by applying to any of the students or at the school. The men who probably will be seen in action tonight are:

Trahey, Gaitens, Norris, forwards; Murphy, Norris, Center; Gebert, Doyle, Cleary, Kennedy, guards.

Stoneham's message was as follows:

"Wish to notify you that no player who hasn't signed will be taken to training camp."

Bentley's answer:

"Respectfully notifying you that I wasn't going to report."

MEADOW POSITIONS OF CARDS NOT SOLVED

St. Louis, Feb. 15—Altho the St. Louis Nationals will have Outfielder Hy Myers, obtained today from Brooklyn in exchange for First Baseman Jack Fournier, Manager Branch Rickey asserted his worries as to the meadow positions were not at an end.

Much depends on Heine Muller and Max Flack, who were injured last season, Mr. Rickey added. Both meadow men however, have reported themselves as in the proverbial "pink" of condition.

In addition to Myers, the Cardinals also obtained an option on the services of Ray Schmandt, first sacker, Mr. Rickey said.

MEREDOSIA GIRL IS WINNER OF BIG PRIZE

Miss Leta Schaefer Winner of $500 Prize in Contest of Chocolate Manufacturing Co.—Other News From Meerdosia.

Meredosia, Feb. 16—Miss Leta Schaefer of Meredosia, a student at Carthage college, won the first prize of $500 in a contest conducted by the Ideal Cream-O-Milk Chocolate Manufacturing Co. Several prizes were offered to the first year cooking classes of different colleges, for the best letter of not over 100 words describing the uses of the product of the manufacturing company, the capital prize being $500.

There were thousands of contestants but Miss Schaefer's letter was judged the best because of literary excellency and commercial value.

According to an agreement between Miss Jackson, the teacher of the domestic art department at Carthage college, and Miss Schaefer the latter is to get $100 of the $500 for writing the letter, and the balance goes to the domestic science department.

The prize winning letter is given below:

"Its the cheapest, the purest, the best, the most satisfactying, nourishing and delicious thing on the market. What is? Why the Ideal Cream-O-Milk chocolate bar of course. There's a lingering, unequaled flavor in its creaminess that tickles the appetite and yet appeases it. A bar eaten instead of a meal before a mental test is a surprising brain-stimulator. On the other hand, it drives away insomnia at night. Melted, it is a delicious last minute sauce for ice cream and custards, a matchless icing for eclairs or cake and poured over freshly popped corn its—well, words fail —just try it.

The judge were: Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr., Charles Marlyn and Dr. Frank Crane.
